Rules for the use of the individual study rooms in the University Library (UB)

1. The use of the individual study rooms is restricted to Leiden University students.

2. The study rooms are assigned daily on a first come, first served basis.

3. The key can be collected from the reception desk at the library entrance, on production of a valid LU-Card. When collecting the key a student card, OV-chipkaart or other valid proof of ID has to be given as a deposit return.

4. The individual study rooms are intended for private use only. When losing the key a damage fee of €30 euros is owed to the library.

5. Smoking, consumption of food and beverages and the use of radios, etc. is not allowed in the individual study room.

6. You are asked to see to it that the study room is clean and empty on leaving.

7. Do not leave your valuable possessions unattended. The University Library is not liable for the loss or damage of personal properties that occurred during the period of use of the studying rooms.
